SAYS WATCH PAWNED WAS FOR SWEETHEART

Blaine Freeburn Finds Timepiece He Loaned in Local Pawnshop.

Blaine Freeburn was nearly in tears yesterday afternoon as he told the police how Earl Matthews had borrowed his gold watch, pawned it with a local jeweler and then disappeared. It was a gold watch, the gift of his mother and intended, in turn, as a gift to the girl he loved. In fact it bore the girl's initials upon the back, and the hunting case afforded excellent protection for the photograph she had given her youthful lover upon an occasion when it became necessary for them to separate for a time.

The two, Freeburn and Matthews, have been employed for sometime by the Avondale Land company. Matthews held the responsible position of time-keeper and needed a watch in his business. The other day something went wrong with his own watch and he borrowed the treasured timepiece of Freeburn. He seemingly took the best of care of the watch, apparently appreciating its intrinsic value to Freeburn.

A day or two ago Matthews had business in town and when he started out he took Freeburn's watch with him. When he failed to put in an appearance at his place of employment, Freeburn became worried and instituted a search. He arrived in Phoenix yesterday and sought police aid in recovering his property. He made a search of the places where a man would be able to pawn a watch. His efforts were rewarded by locating the timepiece in a Washington street establishment.

An effort is being made to apprehend Matthews, who is said to live some distance down the Yuma road. The jeweler told Freeburn not to worry about his watch. He would recover his property once it was shown that Matthews had no right to dispose of it. And that seemed to make Freeburn lighter hearted, although he very much desired to take his watch back home with him last night.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

FORMAL INQUEST—Coroner C. W. Johnstone yesterday held an inquest over the body of little Mary Jewell Clark, who was drowned in a ditch near the family home, five or six miles north of Phoenix Wednesday night. No new facts were developed and the verdict was accidental drowning.

HOME FROM THE COAST—Hon. Isaac T. Stoddard and Emil Ganz, two Phoenixians, who were on the Hearst excursion party to the Orient, have arrived home and they are enthusiastically describing to their friends the beauties of the Philippines and other islands in the eastern seas.

RETURNING FROM THE COAST—Mrs. W. K. James and her son Heighon will be home from Los Angeles next Saturday. Heighon went to the war maneuvers at Atascadero, Cal., with the national guard, and afterward fell ill at Los Angeles with typhoid fever. His mother hurried to his bedside and has succeeded in nursing him to convalescence. The young man is now well on his way toward recovery.

SANTA FE BAGGAGEMEN HAVE THEIR HANDS FULL

Incoming Colonist Travel Heaviest in History of the Road.

Another period of colonist travel over the Santa Fe came to a close yesterday and it will be a few weeks before these rates will again be effective. According to Santa Fe officials the period just closed has been one of the heaviest in the history of the road. And a visit to the depot of the company in Phoenix would certainly tend to bear out the truth of this assertion.

Baggagemen at the local depot had their hands full in taking the scores of pieces of baggage from the incoming trains and disposing of them in the baggage room. They really had more baggage than they had room to store. Trunks were piled high and for a time it looked as though it would be necessary to place some of them either in the waiting room or stack them upon the platform and place a watchman to stand guard.

As fast as the incoming travelers found lodging places, many of them sent express wagons for their trunks, and before night the jam had been broken sufficiently to permit the closing of the baggage room doors.

Whether the closing of the period of the colonist rates will have as marked an effect upon the incoming travel as it has had in other years, is considerable of a problem. This is the time of the year when travel is always the heaviest and the traveler who comes here for next week or two will be of the class caring not for extra expense attendant upon traveling first class.

TWELVE TRUE BILLS RETURNED YESTERDAY

Two Pleaded Guilty—Were Sentenced to Prison Terms.

The territorial grand jury made two reports yesterday, finding twelve true bills and ignoring the charges in seven cases. The plea of guilty was entered in five cases and in two of them, Estevan Flores and Ramon Lopez were sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary. Seven defendants against whom the charges were ignored, were discharged from custody. Their names and the charges against them were Anastacia Rodriguez, held for burglary; James Boyd, held for burglary; Ignacio Parra, held for aggravated assault; Pedro Garcia, held for grand larceny; Florencio Ruiz, held for grand larceny; Jack Pardaux, held for the second charge of forgery, and Jesus M. Torres, who was held on two charges, rape and burglary.

True bills were returned against the following named in the morning session: T. A. Ryan, for forgery; Ramon Lopez, for grand larceny; George Tucker, for burglary; George Ryder, two indictments for uttering fictitious check, and Raymond Hallett alias Geo. Ryder, for forgery, Ryder being established as his true name.

In the subsequent court proceedings Ryder pleaded guilty to issuing a fictitious check and today was announced as the time for sentence. Proceedings in the other two cases were suspended pending the result of the case to which he pleaded guilty.

George Tucker was arraigned on the charge of burglary, pleaded guilty and his sentence was suspended pending his good behavior.

Ramon Lopez pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary from July 1.

T. A. Ryan, indicted for forgery, secured counsel in the person of B. E. Marks, and will plead today.

In the afternoon the grand jury returned the following true bills: Jack Pardaux, for forgery; Gregorio Munoz, for grand larceny; S. L. Holland, for assault with a deadly weapon; G. C. Moore, for assault with a deadly weapon; Pantaleon Alvarado, for assault with a deadly weapon; Jose Romero, for burglary.

Action was taken in the cases of others previously indicted, as follows: Ben Uchida, held for forgery, demurrer overruled, pleaded not guilty and case set for trial October 25.

Clemente Larini, indicted for forgery, pleaded not guilty, case set for trial October 25.

W. L. Seltz, indicted for forgery, pleaded guilty and date of sentence fixed for today.

C. D. Patterson, indicted for forgery, pleading postponed until today.

Epifanio Ochoa, indicted for rape, pleaded not guilty, trial set for October 26.

Jose Romero, given until today to plead, the indictment being murder. It will be noticed by the reader that there are two Jose Romeros, one indicted for murder and the other for burglary.

Estevan Flores, indicted for assault with a deadly weapon, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to serve one year from August 20.

Howard Matthews, indicted for grand larceny, said his true name was Howard Jones, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for October 26.

Tom Stalos, charged in two indictments with assault with a deadly weapon, was given until today to plead.

Mauro Aguilar pleaded not guilty to the indictment for grand larceny and his trial was set for October 26.

The grand jury has disposed of a little more than half the cases that were brought before it when it began its labors.

Not For Men

To Get Relief

When a woman's nervous and physical systems are tired out—worn out—they need something more than mere food, to refresh them.

They need medicines—tonic, herb products, which act as Nature planned they should do, in helping along the functions of life, when ordinary methods fail.

Cardui is not for men. There are many good medicines and tonics for men—but Cardui is only for women—its ingredients and its action make it so.

We know what Cardui will do for tired, worn-out, sick, miserable women, because we know what it has done. What it has done for others, it will surely do for you.

Cardui can be depended upon to help you, if you will give it a fair trial. Consisting only of pure, vegetable ingredients, it has nothing harmful in its composition, but acts, gently, and in a natural way, upon the womanly organs, and has been found, in thousands of cases, to restore sick women to health, after other medicines had failed.

Mrs. Margaret L. Pheral, of Newburg, Ind., writes: "I had sick headache, continuous hurting in my side; was always tired, and, every month, had such pains, I could hardly stand. I was treated by the best doctors in our town for more than a year, without any help. At last, I took Cardui, and it worked wonders. Before I had taken one bottle, I felt better. Now I feel better than in two years, and owe it all to Cardui."

Try Cardui, it will help you. Sold by 40,000 druggists. Get a bottle today.
